One day conference on Ensuring Quality & Traceability of Medicinal Products

28 Sep 2024 | Aab Mahal | Radisson Blu Hotel, New Delhi Dwarka India

About the conference

Greetings from IPA-DSB

We are pleased to invite you to attend the one-day conference on "Ensuring Quality & Traceability of Medicinal Products," scheduled for 28th September 2024 at Aab Mahal, Radisson Blu Hotel, New Delhi Dwarka, India.

This conference will address the critical issues related to the quality and traceability of medicinal products, which pose significant threats to public health worldwide. The event will bring together experts, policymakers, and industry leaders to discuss current trends, innovative detection technologies, and regulatory measures aimed at preventing the distribution of not of standard quality drugs. It offers a unique opportunity for your organization to connect with up to 150 leading healthcare professionals from academia, research, industry, government, and the private sector. The Organizing Committee is working diligently to assemble a distinguished group of regulators, policymakers, and industry leaders from around the globe. Together, they will explore recent developments in addressing the pressing issues related to the quality and traceability of medicinal products. Through panel discussions and workshops, invited speakers will share knowledge and strategies to enhance drug safety, ensure supply chain integrity, and protect patients. This conference represents a crucial step towards global collaboration in addressing quality concerns of medicinal products. It promises to provide an engaging and informative program for delegates and offer valuable networking and business opportunities for sponsors through an interactive exhibition and a dynamic series of scientific events.

Scope & Topics

The upcoming conference on "Ensuring Quality & Traceability of Medicinal Products" will focus on the critical challenges posed by substandard and low-quality drugs and their significant impact on global health. The event will convene experts from various fields, including medicine, regulatory affairs, law enforcement, public health, legal practice, and technology, to develop innovative strategies for ensuring the quality and safety of pharmaceutical products. Attendees will explore a comprehensive range of topics, including the latest global standards for drug quality, advancements in regulatory frameworks, and technological innovations in drug authentication and supply chain integrity. Emphasis will also be placed on the importance of stakeholder collaboration and public awareness in combating the proliferation of low-quality medicinal products. Through real-world case studies, the conference will provide valuable insights into successful interventions and strategies that have been effective in maintaining high standards in drug production and distribution. The conference aims to foster a collaborative environment where knowledge exchange and partnerships can drive global efforts to ensure that all medicinal products meet stringent quality and safety standards. By bringing together a diverse group of professionals, the event seeks to advance the collective understanding and implementation of best practices in pharmaceutical industry, ultimately contributing to the protection of public health.

Conference Highlights

Low Quality Drugs - A Menace in the Society

- Explore the profound impact of substandard drugs on public health and safety, socio-economic consequences and the urgent need for measures.
- Discuss global and local prevalence, health implications, and economic burden.
